Dear James:

The Department of Philosophy's Writing Contest Committee unanimously agreed that your paper, "How to Edit the Human Genome", should be one of the two winners of the 2019 Class of 55 Writing Contest. You will be receiving a check in the amount of $500 as your prize.

Our Administrative Specialist, Deb Biddle, will be contacting you via email to discuss the steps necessary to receive your check.

Our best wishes and congratulations to you on a very well-written paper.

Sincerely,
